VOICE OPENING INTRODUCTION TOUR

We made this programme for those who want to experience travels on a deeper level: Travelling in style, enjoying the natural and cultural beauty while aligning those outside sights with your inner landscapes. This tour is about being totally immersed in the experience.

Four elements of the world are part of us through the very existence of our bodies and much deeper, their qualities are part of our souls. The elements of soil, air, fire and water are entwined in our very essence. This was the secret knowledge of the travelling musicians of the past who were often accused of working with magic and witchcraft while they were simply free spirits and healers. They knew that every place has unique sounds and that by aligning our inner world with outer, by enjoying sightseeing while looking inside, we experience life unfolding in always new, majestically beautiful and expanded ways.

Maja, Vicky and Damjan will take you on ancient journey of travelling musicians and invite you to join their band by using your precious instrument – your voice. Along with exercises that enable you to open and expand your voice, you will be searching for secret sounds of the forests, listening to the songs of the mountain winds, jumping into the silence of magical places, sing melodies of your hearts that you didn't know existed at all, and more. You will be exploring the four elements of your voice in your soul. You will be surprised and enchanted by the experience.

During and after this tour, you will feel relaxed, refreshed and ready to return to your everyday duties with renewed energy as you have never felt before. After you open your voice, your impact on the world around you will be noticed. This tour will unlock the true frequencies of your soul.

Vicky Brescott is a singer and certified voice specialist based in Munich with a rich international experience in working with the widest profiles of clients. She has been running her private practice Stimmgut for voice and speech training and coaching and a concert series Comfort Zone in Munich. Vicky's style of work can be described as grounded and gentle.

Maja Zarkovic is a violinist and educator with international involvement based in London and has been trained in aspects of psychology of performance and psychology of music. She founded Island of Sounds workshops for voice opening through body movement and meditation in Croatia. Maja's style of work is seriously playful and fiery.

Damjan Beusan is a licensed and experienced tourist guide and CEO of Kufer Travel Tour Operator based in Zagreb, Croatia. Certified holistic counselor, „Who is in“ leader and also a graduate of Somatic Experiencing Trauma Worker. On this trip he will be leading the meditations and offering sessions. Damjan's style of work is intense and silent.

Vicky, Maja and Damjan share common interest in voice being our natural tool for healing and personal development work.

We are looking forward to sharing this wonderful tour with you!
